January 2023

As noted in the December 2022 Presidential Perspective, this Jaguar Tracks is the start of bi-monthly editions. We'll do our best to highlight upcoming events, but we suggest you check the SDJC website (<https://sdjagclub.wildapricot.org/>) for the latest information. We will also continue to utilize e-mails to ensure you are kept up to date on upcoming events and activities.

We are also transitioning to organizing club events via a committee-like structure in 2023. This not only removes a heavy load from the 1st Vice President of Activities (an unfilled position at the moment), it also encourages members to take the lead in setting up events at favored locales/restaurants.

Check out Cat Tails on pages 18 and 19 where Julie Wainer describes her love of red Jaguars, two in particular. Julie and her husband Bill are newer members. However, her family's involvement with SDJC goes back much further. It is a great story.

There are a half dozen recurring club events each year: Rolling British Car Day and the New Members Luncheon in the spring, the SDJC Concours and the Concours Afterglow in the July-August timeframe, and the Election Luncheon and the Holiday Party in November and December. That leaves six activity dates for drives, picnics, lunches, and the like. If sponsoring an event appeals to you, please contact any SDJC board member.

Our first event for 2023 is a drive to the Windmill Food Hall in Carlsbad, sponsored by Nedra Rummell (see page 22). We met at the Food Hall last year and it was a rousing success. The February event is still to be defined. The March event will be very popular: a drive to and afternoon buffet at the San Vicente Golf Resort in Ramona on March 4 (see page 26). Jorgene and I have stayed there a number of times, both before and after the COIVD shutdown. For us, it is a pleasant 45-minute drive from the coast via very scenic Wildcat Canyon Road that passes through the Barona Indian Reservation. This will be one of the routes for the event.

Mark Hodges, outgoing Webmaster, Concours Chair, and Property Manager, has prepared an engaging article on pages 24 and 25 about the roles he has filled over the past several years. Please review it with an open mind about how you could support the club if you so choose.

I keep my Jags for a number of years before replacing them, and that's the case with my 2011 XJ. I purchased it from Jaguar San Diego in 2016 with 57K miles. Being a daily driver now with 137K miles, it is showing signs of "pampered use". I recently chose to invest in repairs that were half the value of the car. It would have been more if I hadn't had Coventry Cars of San Diego, a very-long-time Jaguar Tracks advertiser, do the repairs. Why? Because not only did they do a great job, they gave me the Jaguar Tracks advertiser 10% discount! I gave thought to buying a newer, lower-mileage XJ, but opted to go with my current XJ since it has all the bells and whistles Jorgene and I enjoy. And it again runs like a top.

SDJC 2022 Holiday Party

Tom Ham's Lighthouse - December 3rd, 2022

Recap by Chuck Leuthen (with apologies to Clement Clarke Moore)

Photos by Matt Allen

*'Twas early December, when all through the house,
Not a creature was stirring, 'sept Nedra & Diah, (and maybe a mouse).*

*Party favors were placed on the tables with care,
in hopes that club members soon would be there.*

Those members were hustling all snug in their Jags, while dressed in their finest of holiday rags.

And Kathy in her get-up, and I in my tuxedo, had just exited the 5 glancing down at the speedo.

When out in the parking lot there arose such a clatter, Nedra jumped up to see what was the matter.

*Away to the window she flew like a snipe,
to see arriving XKs, XJs and our very own F-Type.*

The moon on the surface of the glorious bay, gave a sparkle to the skyline brighter than day.

*When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
but the Proctors, the Allens & the Novacks at rear.*

*While cocktails, appetizers & champagne were a winner,
now it looked like it was just about time for that dinner.*

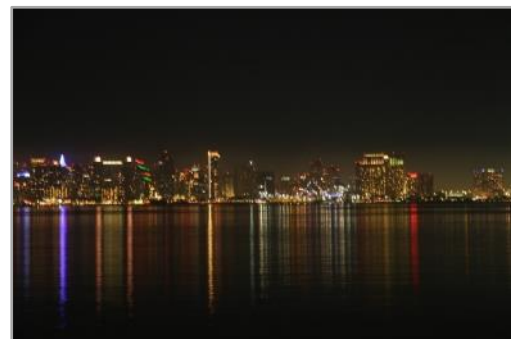

*More rapid than eagles the coursers they came,
Spinach salad, Surf & Turf, and a dessert of great fame!*

*With dinner complete it was now time for Dan Jensen,
Tall, dark and terribly handsome.*

*Presenting awards was the name of the game,
So, he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name.*

*"Now Mark! Now Diana! Now Annie! Now Diah! Get it in motion!
Time for recognition of tremendous service and devotion."*

*After winning the door prize, Tim & Debbie exclaimed as they drove out of sight:
"HAPPY HOLIDAYS TO ALL, AND TO ALL A GOOD-NIGHT!"*

Cat Tales

By Julie Wainer

When Bill and I were asked to introduce ourselves at one of the luncheons, I must admit we both went into a bit of “panic mode”. We are very proud of our beautiful car, but we’re not too used to talking about it. But I guess this is the place where we can brag a bit about our remarkable red beauty!

I feel fortunate to have grown up with a car enthusiast. My father has owned many incredible automobiles over his lifetime. One of his favorites was his brand new 1965 Jaguar XKE. But if you were to ask me, my favorite would have to be his 1976 XJ6C (the last year of the coupe). It was signal red, and it was the car I most remember from my childhood. I was only 6 years old when we drove it off the lot; but I’ll never forget that day.

My parents were part of the Jaguar club here in San Diego and I attended many of the Concours d’ Elegance events. I also was taught at an early age how to clean a whitewall if my mom got a little too close to the curb! Growing up with such an outstanding car, it was always my dream to drive a red Jag just like my mom. So, when the opportunity presented itself, we knew we had to jump on it.

A friend’s parents made the painful decision to part with their beloved Jaguar. We had heard about this special edition car and the fact that there were 18 made for the US. When we found out it was red, we knew it was fate.

We did some research and learned as much as we possibly could about this 2011 XKR Poltrona Frau Limited Edition Coupe.

Ian Callum was a Scottish car designer. He became the Director of Design for Jaguar from 1999-2019. So here is the story of our car.

“The 2011 XKR Poltrona Frau Limited Edition in salsa red with black pack is one of only 18 cars in Ian Callum's personal color combination.

Jaguar North America commissioned a special run of 18 cars with the Poltrona Frau leather headliner. Each one is an XKR Coupe in a very special color combination available exclusively on these cars.

What makes this combination so special is that it is not just exclusive to these cars, but it is Jaguar head designer Ian Callum's personal specification for his own XKR Coupe. To own a car in the preferred color combination of the car's designer is certainly very special. Two of these 18 cars were initially held by Jaguar North America for special events, meaning only 16 were initially available for retail sale.”

Our goal now is to find out which number of the limited edition our car is. We have spoken to many people and feel like we are on the right path to track down the information.

But it’s not really the number that makes this car special to me – it’s the feeling I get every time I get behind the wheel. Now I understand the pride and joy my mom felt with her Jag for so many years.

There’s just something special about a Jaguar (limited edition or not).

Julie

Editor’s Note: Thank you Julie. Looking forward to seeing you, Bill and this rare beast at our 2023 events! – Ed.

- James & Elizabeth Waite - 3rd Place Regional C5 - E-Type OTS Series 1

We are continually looking for a few good women and men to become new Concours Judges. The process to become a judge is simple and training is given. Also, a short period as an apprentice judge is required to gain experience and confidence. Additionally, judges can focus on models they have the most familiarity. Speaking of training, I've started updating the training material for next year - my focus is to include a few more photographs of the newer models to capture details while they're still new.

Finally, if you would like to support our concours program, as a new judge or entrant, please let me know. It's a great way to get to know the marque.

If you have any questions about this article, becoming a judge or JCNA Concours d'Elegance participation, please contact me chiefjudge@sdiagclub.com or phone / text (858) 335-0763.

Open Letter to All San Diego Jaguar Club Members

By Mark Hodges

Those of you who were at the Election Luncheon and the Holiday Party heard that the Hodges family is moving to the Newport coast next year, and I don't mean the California Newport coast. As such, the position of Webmaster, Concours Chair, and Property Manager are open, and folks needs to step up and take over. Before I write about what a Webmaster and Concours Chair do, I'll tell you how I got the jobs and then go into why you should volunteer to take over one of the positions.

When my Webmaster predecessor moved out of state, word went out for a volunteer to replace him. I thought about it, but decided to let someone else step up because I was not convinced I was ready to take on that responsibility. Later, I decided I was ready; nothing changed, I just thought I could handle it. My only experience with websites was I had just built a Cub Scout Pack website and realized it wasn't that hard. The Pack had been using a generic platform, which I hated, so I switched to a host called 'Scoutlander', which specialized in scouting websites. What I really liked was all of the back pages were already made; all I had to do was to fill in the blanks.

Our two previous SDJC website hosts also used generic platforms and we had to build everything from scratch. I hated them too. Jump to the present. Our current host, Wild Apricot, specializes in websites for social clubs; the website platforms are designed for membership and events, which fits our needs perfectly. We don't have to build anything; it is already there. All we have to do is pick what we want to use and fill in those blanks. I say 'we' not 'I' because I don't have to do everything myself anymore. The site is designed for multiple account administrators who have different levels of account access. Dave Allen has admin access to the financial side, Nedra Rummell has admin access to the membership side, Diah Avery has admin access to the events side, and Chuck Leuthen has admin access to the Jaguar Tracks side; they all handle the tasks associated with those positions. Directors and other elected officers have admin view access to all pages. So, running this website is truly a group effort, and the burden does not fall onto one person's shoulders. Wild Apricot has a tutorial video or pdf for pretty much any question we might have. While I feel FAQ pages on many websites are garbage (they pose questions they like, not what their customers want), Wild Apricot poses real questions with real answers on how to perform pretty much any task. I am still learning, but I have found all the answers to my questions by either clicking the 'Support' tab or calling tech support. The site is web based, so we can work on the site from any computer where there is internet access. I have edited the website from my home computer, from my work computer, and from my laptop when traveling. I don't even log on every day; it is all about time management. Whoever you are who becomes Webmaster, you do not need to be a tech geek, know the tech acronyms, or understand what they mean or what they do; I certainly do not. Anytime I spout one out is because I just looked it up to find out what it meant. What you must have is the dedication to succeed and make this work, not because it is a burden, but because you have pride in accomplishing something positive for the club.

I don't even remember how I got roped into being the Concours Chair since I had only been to a few Concours before then, but apparently, I said, "Okay", because here I am. The first thing I realized is ya'll really like the Spanish Landing Park location. The second thing I realized is we rented most everything except for the canopies, which meant money went out every year with nothing to show for it. So we bought our own tables, chairs, sound system, portable power system, etc. These items paid for themselves in only a few years. Tim Bennet donated custom logo table covers and canopies. These changes put us on the map as one of the premier Concours car shows around. The pre-planning (location, portable restroom reservations, etc.) starts many months in advance, and different tasks have different timelines so everything is not bunched up close to showtime. The website makes registration a breeze; it is not complicated at all (the secret here is you can copy last year's Concours into a new event and all you have to do is change the specifics in the entry boxes. Shhh; don't tell anyone it is that easy). The most time-consuming task is filling in and printing the windshield placards and scoresheets. That task is much easier now that we have a fillable pdf program where all I do is type in the personal identifying info in the appropriate box, hit print, and voila - instant windshield placards and scoresheets. Ever notice other club's placards and scoresheets? Sorry, but they look like crap: handwritten and only partially filled out. It is actually more work for them with less results; most inefficient.

The Property Manager mostly deals with the equipment needed for the Concours. A good property manager has access to a truck, van, and/or trailer to transport the supplies to the Concours. You don't even have to show a car or even stay for the show – just show up at the end to pack up all the stuff, with lots of help from Concours participants, and haul it back to the club's storage unit in Old Town.

There are a whole lot of club members who will help if you just ask. They might not be able to run the website or be a functional chair, but they help out so much, it really relieves much of the burden. The secret is this: a little extra pre-planning on the front end makes success on the back end much easier. Every time I pull something off, I really do say to myself, "Wow, that actually worked."

Now, about you stepping up to fill one of these positions. If a club officer thinks you would be a good fit and asks you to volunteer for one of these positions, please consider it. If you think you would be a good fit, let me or any club officer know. Ask questions, watch a few tutorial videos, meet with me so I can personally show you the back pages of the website and the admin side of the Concours. While we do need people to come to these events as participants, someone has to organize them. Do what I did: take what someone else built, put your own stamp on it, and modify it to match your own personality.

We won't be leaving until mid-year, so the sooner you get on board, the longer the overlap, and the more I will be able to mentor you. Until our next event, take care...

Mark
